

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment Asian Strategic Bond Fund (the "Fund") seeks medium to long term capital growth and regular income by primarily (i.e. at least 70% of its non-cash assets) investing in debt securities that are (a) denominated in Asian currencies, or (b) issued or guaranteed by Asian governments or entities which are incorporated in Asia or have significant operations or assets in, or derive significant portion of revenue or profits from Asia, and denominated in USD or other currencies including Asian currencies.
2. The Fund invests in emerging markets and may be subject to higher liquidity and volatility risks.
3. The Fund may invest in below investment grade or non-rated debt securities, which are subject to greater credit and liquidity risks than higher-rated securities.
4. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Investors should note that the distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
5. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that these currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
6. RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to foreign exchange control policies of the Chinese government. Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors' base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB would adversely affect the value of investor's investment in the Fund.
7. The Fund may use derivative instruments for hedging purposes which may not achieve the intended purpose and may result in significant losses.
8. Investors should not make an investment decision based solely on this material.

BEA Union Investment Asian Strategic Bond Fund

Asian Investment Grade Bonds Outperform Following Investors' Flight to Safety

Highlights:

1. U.S. Treasuries supported by safe-haven bid, with yields remaining flat in June
2. Higher credit quality Asian investment grade bonds continue to outperform
3. Lower leverages of Asian high yield bond issuers lead to increasing number of credit rating upgrades

Fund Features

- The Fund adopts flexible allocation in Asian investment grade / high yield bonds, diversifying into different Asian countries, sectors, and currencies.
- The Fund invests not more than 50% in Asian high yield bonds in general conditions.
- Mainly invests in corporate bonds which tend to be less sensitive to rate hike cycle.

Market Review and Outlook

Review of Interest Rate Market

- U.S. Treasuries have been supported by the safe-haven bid as tariff tensions between the U.S. and China escalate. 10-year U.S. Treasury yields remained largely range-bound at around 2.85% to 3% in June and were still flat at 2.86% at the end of June.

Asian Investment Grade Bonds

- In June, higher credit quality AA and A rated names have continued to outperform as a result of investors' flight to higher quality credit.
- Asian investment grade bond market is also benefiting from the reduction of primary issuance and the stabilisation of U.S. Treasury yields.

Asian High Yield Bonds

- Overall, Asian high yield bond markets continued to experience some correction in June because of risk-off sentiment, but current valuation looks attractive given their fundamentals remain solid.
- Default rates for Asian corporate have been relatively low historically compared to high yield bonds in other emerging markets. Currently, the default rate of Asian U.S. dollar bonds is just 2%. The leverage of many Asian corporate borrowers is declining, credit rating agencies respond with a growing number of rating upgrades.

Investment Strategy

- The Fund remained strategically defensive in June. It continued to reduce its exposure in high yield bonds, while holding on to more defensive investment grade bonds with better credit quality.
- In terms of high yield bonds, the Fund continued to reduce its holdings in some higher beta names and long-dated bonds across various sectors.
