

Important note:

1. BEA Union Investment Global Flexi Allocation Fund (the "Fund") seeks to achieve medium to long term capital growth and income through investing in a diversified portfolio consisting of global equity securities and/or debt securities in global markets.
2. The Fund invests in emerging markets and may be subject to higher liquidity and volatility risks.
3. The Fund invests directly in equities, REITs, ETFs and managed funds, and is thus subject to the risks generally associated with such asset classes, including but not limited to liquidity of the asset class, changes in investment sentiment, political environment, economic, business and social conditions in the global markets.
4. The Fund may invest in below investment grade or non-rated debt securities including high yield bonds, which are subject to greater credit and liquidity risks than higher-rated securities.
5. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Investors should note that the distributions paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of the unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.
6. In terms of currency hedged class units, adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that these currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the manager will be successful in employing the hedge. In terms of RMB classes of units, RMB is currently not a freely convertible currency as it is subject to foreign exchange control policies of the Chinese government. There is also no assurance that the RMB will not be subject to devaluation. Investors may still be subject to the RMB currency exchange risk.
7. The Fund may enter into futures contracts for hedging and investment purposes. Given the leverage effect embedded in futures contracts, the Fund may be exposed to significant losses.
8. Investors should not make an investment decision based solely on this material.

BEA Union Investment Global Flexi Allocation Fund

Stock Markets Energised by Strong Corporate Quarterly Earnings

Highlights:

1. U.S. equities buoyed by strong corporate earnings and tax reform progress
2. Currency appreciation boosts European bond markets
3. The Fund is up 14.2%¹ YTD and 15.5%¹ in 1 year

Fund Features

- The Fund is a one stop solution for global equity and bond investment.
- Prudent selection of stable, global large-cap equities with capital appreciation potential. Flexible allocation across Asian high yield bonds and global investment grade corporate bonds.

Market Review and Outlook

Equities

- U.S. equities were buoyed by strong third quarter earnings, with over 70% of companies in the S&P 500 Index beating or meeting market estimates. Furthermore, the U.S. Senate following the U.S. Congress in passing a vote to reform the tax code boosted investor sentiment.
- Corporate earnings were also strong in Europe in the third quarter but equity markets were subdued by the uncertainty around Germany's political situation. The appreciation of the Euro against the U.S. dollar helped to offset some of this weakness.
- Japan recorded its seventh consecutive quarter of economic growth, giving further evidence that the brief recession caused by a rise in consumption taxes is long over. Signs are also beginning to emerge that consumer price inflation is beginning to pick up.

Bonds

- The global bond market performed resiliently in November, with government yields trading in a narrow range ahead of the Federal Open Market Committee meeting and the U.S. dollar weakening.
- Euro and British pound bonds outperformed due to strong appreciation of the currencies and improving economic data.
- Strong economic data in the U.S. and eurozone will continue to support the central bank's interest rate normalisation policy, which may cause short-term volatility in the global bond markets.

Investment Strategy

Equities

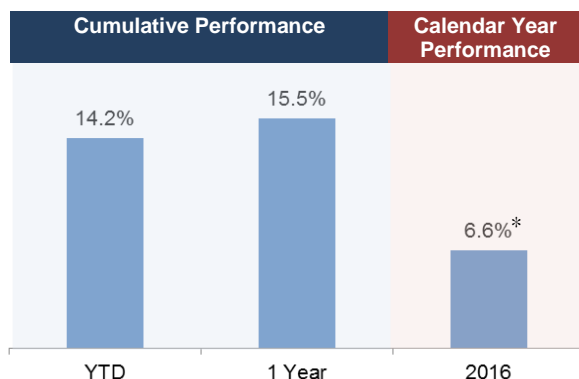

- The Fund has a neutral stance on regional allocation, seeking to invest in companies with appealing growth and valuation characteristics.
- The Fund is rebalanced regularly, and is currently slightly overweight in the I.T. and financial sectors.

Bonds

- The Fund's allocation in bonds remains at 40-45%.
- The duration of the bond portfolio remains underweight, as bond yields may be driven up by positive U.S. tax plan progress and the consensus market expectation of continued rate hikes in 2018.
- The Fund is positioning itself defensively in preparation for the holiday season market quiet.

1. Source: Lipper, as at 30 November 2017. The quoted return is for A USD (Distributing) launched on 27 January 2016. Performance is calculated in the respective class of denominated currencies on a NAV to NAV basis. Gross income is re-invested.
2. Annualised dividend yield = (dividend of November x 12) / last month end NAV x 100%. The manager may at its discretion make distributions from income and/or capital in respect of the distributing classes of the Fund. Such distribution may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit. Dividend only applies to distributing classes and is not guaranteed. Past dividend record is not indicative of future dividend likely to be achieved. Please note that a positive distribution yield does not imply a positive return.
